

THE VALE
LONDON

Dogon Wallcovering D005 Rust

Celebrating the artistry of the indigenous people of Mali, Dogon reflects the ancient craft and motifs of bògòlanfini, or 'bogolan'. Literally translated as 'mud cloth', bogolan is a traditional handspun cotton, painted with symbols using natural dyes, including aged river mud. When washed, they reveal their beautiful organic designs, reflecting Malian music and ritual. Bògòlanfini patterns are rich in cultural significance, often featuring scenes from myths and folklore, proverbs and dancing figures with upraised hands. Bring a feeling of festivity into your space with this versatile wallcovering. Our take on bogolan is printed on strié linen wallcovering in five colours, with original drawings by artist Melinda Marquardt.

Pattern: Geometric

Colour: Autumn, Orange

Composition: 100% Non-woven paper-backed linen

Width: 72cm / 28.3"

Horizontal Repeat: 70cm / 27.6"

Vertical Repeat: 21.5cm / 8.5"

Cleaning: Vacuum brush

Uses: Wallpaper

Collection: World's End Collection

Roll length: Sold by the metre/yd, min order 10m/11yd

Repeat Info: Straight Match, Untrimmed

The Vale London

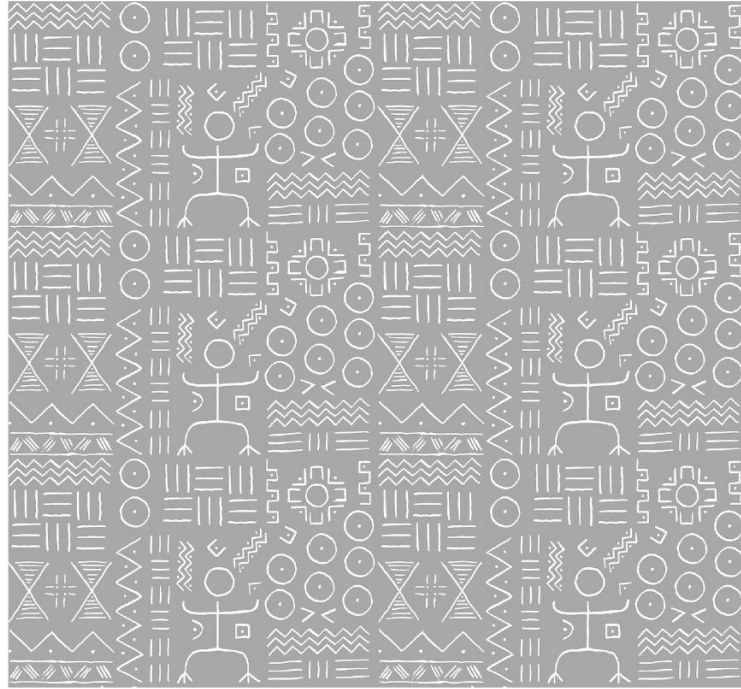

UK: +44 (0) 203 885 0870

USA: +1 (855) 817 5854

contact@thevalelondon.co.uk

Horizontal Repeat: 70cm/27.5"

Vertical Repeat: 21.5cm / 8.5"

The Vale London

UK: +44 (0) 203 885 0870

USA: +1 (855) 817 5854

contact@thevalelondon.co.uk